

Joan Johnson-Freese
Professor, National Security Studies
U.S. Naval War College

Dr. Joan Johnson-Freese is a Professor and former Chair of the National Security Affairs Department at the Naval War College in Newport, RI. Previously, she served as a faculty member at the Asia Pacific Center for Security Studies in Honolulu, HI, the Air War College in Montgomery, AL, and the University of Central Florida in Orlando, FL. Her space-related publications include: Heavenly Ambitions: America's Quest to Dominate Space; Space As A Strategic Asset, The Chinese Space Program: A Mystery Within a Maze and over 100 journal articles. She is a former member of the Space Studies Board of the National Academy of Sciences, a Fellow of the International Academy of Astronautics, on the Advisory Committee of the Secure World Foundation, and the Editorial Board of China Security. She has testified before Congress on multiple occasions and is regularly interviewed by the media, including Xinhua News Agency, CNN, CBS, ABC, The New York Times, Reuters and the BBC, on space issues. She also teaches courses on Globalization & US National Security, Space & Security, and Leadership in War and Peace at Harvard Summer and Extension Schools.